

SOME AREAS OF ENGLISH TO WORK ON AT HOME

For help with reading you can use the Accelerated Reader link on the Dojo class story.

Also, the Oxford Owl has lots of activities:

You can download extracts from books on this website:

*Keep reading lots!*

The bank of websites you were given when the schools closed should provide some resources for most of these areas. These areas are spelling, punctuation or grammar based. For each area the children can write stories, or even just sentences. They can look through their books to find examples of these concepts too. Children should know how to use capital letters, full stops, exclamation marks and question marks correctly. There are activities and worksheets on the following websites. Remember, we will be providing tasks on the home learning banks too.
